UniPage - Store Live Attendance Meter

The UniPage Store Live Attendance Meter makes it effortless to manage the number of people in your store. Using dual beams at entries and exits, this system monitors the number of customers who have entered and exited the store. This can then be displayed on a TV to assist staff. The display will have the current count, the absolute capacity and will change colour/flash to alert if the pre-set count is exceeded.

Optional Items:
- In-store pager for management updates of visitor/customer numbers
- Internet access so a central location could monitor and set limits for stores remotely and have data displayed on web site app that a visiting customer can check store occupancy prior to leaving home
